LOS ANGELES — Adult novelty manufacturer The Screaming O has announced the release of The Screaming O FingO, a wireless, finger-fitting sex toy.

The super-powered mini vibrator is waterproof and is available in three sensation styles — “Tingly,” “Wavy” and “Nubby.”

The company recommends using several finger vibrators simultaneously.

”Start off teasing with the Tingly sensation, switch over to ride the Wavy ridges, and bring it home with the Nubby,” Screaming O President Justin Ross said.

“Or you can simply switch back and forth like you’re playing the piano. The best part is [it] doesn’t have to be a solo sport. The most fun can come from using them during sex to provide vibrating power with complete control.”

Made from high-quality silicone, FingOs are ergonomically designed for fit on any finger with an angled tip. Fingos come with replaceable batteries.

The Screaming O FingOs are the latest addition to the company’s award winning, top-selling line of disposable and nondisposable vibrating rings and toys. The line includes the popular name-sake Screaming O, the Screaming O Plus and Touch-Plus, the Screaming Ovation Love Kit, the reusable vibrating ring the Big O, the O Wow, the Bong O, the O Boy, the O Honey vibrating orgasm enhancer, and the Screaming Octopus, a waterproof vibrating sex toy for fun in the tub.

The Screaming O is a two-time winner of the Women’s Health Magazine’s Annual Sex Awards for 2007 and 2008, has been published as the top-selling product line in most adult stores and was recently awarded StorErotica’s 2007 Innovator of the Year award.
