LOS ANGELES - If The Screaming O were a basketball player known for his game, only a half court shot could trump his repertoire. The adult manufacturer has hit nothing but net with its latest vibrating TriO Triple Pleasure Ring, an evolution of their Two-O Double Pleasure Ring. The silicone and battery-operated toy has taken dual-motor vibrating rings to the next level by adding a "baller" attachment to make sure "the boys" get some action, too, Screaming O representative Conde Aumann said.

"All cheesy jingles aside, the TriO's unique design really provides maximum sensation for both partners," she said. "It'll have everyone humming the TriO tune all summer long."

The vibes offer sensations for both men and women, and the item also serves as a cock ring. And if you're one for directions, each TriO is individually packaged on a blister card that clearly demonstrate the details and functions, vice president Keith Caggiano said.

"It's a great high-end addition to the line for retailers to use as an upsell to the Big O," he finished.
